Role Definition & Responsibilities

OptiMind Educational Strategies — prepared by Ruby Groves, Gemini Lane

Position · Executive Function (EF) Specialist Status · Draft Last updated · Aug 16, 2026

Position Summary

The EF Specialist works directly with OptiMind's middle and high school, college, and adult clients to build and reinforce executive-functioning skills — delivering sessions, tracking curriculum coverage, and logging progress against each client's goals — while coordinating with parents, therapists, and schools where a client's plan calls for it.

Client Types Served

- Middle & High School
- College
- Adult

Core Responsibilities

- Deliver 1:1 EF coaching sessions per the agreed caseload and schedule.
- Log session notes immediately after each session using the practice's notetaking tool, once the AI notetaker is live.
- Track curriculum coverage per client — module taught, date, and the "next up" module — in the shared coverage record.
- Log progress against each client's stated EF goals in the goals tracker.
- Hold parent sessions on the required cadence for clients under 18, per the service agreement.
- Coordinate with outside providers (teachers, therapists) using the practice's email templates, where a client's plan calls for it.
- Flag any statutory or school deadline (IEP/504, advocacy case) for entry against the client record.
- Maintain regular communication with clients and families by phone and email, keeping them informed of progress and any scheduling changes.

Non-Session Responsibilities

- Session-note completion and curriculum/goal-tracker entry (above).
- Keeping client records accurate and current in the shared system once the platform migration is complete.
- Maintaining communication with clients and families by phone and email.
- Helping draft or update curriculum content — optional for this first hire, not a baseline expectation yet. The goal is to build toward this over time rather than require it from day one.

What Stays With Sarah

- Referral relationship management and marketing.
- Billing, contracts, and HR/compliance matters.
- Final sign-off on graduation and discharge decisions.

See the New Hire Decision List for the full breakdown of what the specialist decides alone, what needs a conversation, and what always stays with Sarah.

Caseload & Session Load

- Caseload ramps over the specialist's first weeks per the Week-One Onboarding Schedule.
- Target steady-state caseload: ramp up to ~30 billable hours per week by week 8. Sarah passes off enough clients to reach that target, but the specialist manages her own daily session schedule.
- Working days/hours: 9am–7pm ET Monday–Thursday, 9am–4pm ET Friday.

Reporting & Support

- A weekly one-to-one with Sarah.
- Scheduled before the specialist's first week.
