

DRAFT — INTERNAL SOP

Week-One Onboarding Schedule

OptiMind Educational Strategies — prepared by Ruby Groves, Gemini Lane

Applies to · New EF Specialist hire Status · Draft Last updated · Aug 16, 2026

Overview

Something for the new specialist to land on in week one, rather than improvising against a business with nothing written down. Assumes the Role Definition and Client Workflow documents are finished first — this schedule is what walks the specialist through them.

Before Day One

Confirmed and in place before the specialist's first day:

- ☐ Create Calendly login link for new specialist, with event types set up for: Parent Sessions, Meet-and-Greet, Collaboration Meetings, and Meetings with Me (Sarah books a time with the specialist directly and it lands on their calendar).
- ☐ Employment paperwork signed (offer letter, employment agreement, confidentiality/data-handling agreement).
- ☐ Weekly one-to-one is on the calendar.
- ☐ Sarah sets up the new specialist's company email address.
- ☐ Create an auto-email signature in Gmail for the specialist's company email account.
- ☐ Sync the specialist's work calendar to Sarah's, so Sarah can see their scheduled sessions.
- ☐ Sarah grants access to her session documents, and to any client files she has decided to onboard the specialist to.
- ☐ Zoom subscription set up for the specialist.
- ☐ Remaining accounts and access provisioned: confirm — CRM/platform, session notetaker.
- ☐ Role Definition, Client Workflow, and Employee Reference Sheet documents ready to hand over.
- ☐ New Hire Decision List reviewed together, so the specialist knows what they decide alone versus what needs a conversation.

Week One, Day by Day

Day 1 Orientation

- Walk through the Role Definition & Responsibilities document together.
- Hand over the Employee Reference Sheet: client folder structure, forms, and tools.
- Confirm account access to everything needed for week one.
- Specialist writes their employee bio and provides a headshot for the website.

Day 2 Tools

- Walk through the Client Workflow — Intake to Graduation document together.
- Training on curriculum documents.
- Training on the session notetaker and where notes land in the client record.
- Mock session with Sarah, so the specialist can see how she conducts a session.

Day 3 Provider Coordination & Templates

- Walk through the Teacher Email Template, Therapist Email Template, and Teacher Feedback Form.
- Mock session with Sarah, so the specialist can see how she conducts a session.

Day 4 Mock Sessions & Documentation

- Mock session with Sarah, so the specialist can see how she conducts a session.
- Specialist gets used to the documentation — session notes, curriculum tracker — logging notes for the mock session and reviewing them together afterward.

Day 5 First Weekly One-to-One

- First scheduled one-to-one: a discussion on what the ongoing one-to-ones will look like going forward, plus feedback covering the whole first week.
- Specialist continues getting familiar with the documentation — session notes, curriculum tracker.
- Confirm the caseload ramp for week two against the table below.

Caseload Ramp

Steady-state target is confirmed at ~30 billable hours per week, reached by week 8. Sarah passes off enough clients to reach that target, but the specialist manages her own daily session schedule. confirm — the week-by-week ramp curve between week 2 and week 8 is still a placeholder; replace with the real curve once agreed.

WEEK	TARGET HOURS	NOTES
Week 1	TBD	Basic onboarding and mock sessions with Sarah
Week 2	TBD	Shadows one or more of Sarah's live sessions; reverse mock sessions
Week 3	TBD
Week 4	TBD
Week 5	TBD
Week 6	TBD
Week 7	TBD
Week 8	~30	Steady-state caseload target reached

Standing Rhythm (Ongoing From Week One)

- Weekly one-to-one with Sarah.
